IN THE LAST TEN YEARS

Norma and I have been married since 1970, starting out in Morris, Illinois and now currently live in Washington, Illinois, nine miles East of Peoria. I retired from Caterpillar Inc. in November of 2001 and Norma from an Insurance Office in 2004. We both enjoy our time together at home with grandkids, pets, personal computers, and hobbies. We are very domesticated and don't travel extensively, although a couple weeks of sunshine in Florida during the January or February months suits our fancy. Odd how we acquired passports about three years ago but have never used them for any trip out of the US.

We are community oriented and motivated, belonging to a very active church and enjoy a community recreational facility. (It just recently hosted a visit by Sara Palin.) I really enjoy the large radio control airplane and helicopter flying that gets into the six and seven foot wingspan categories. That infers a workshop is somewhere in the near vicinity, which is in the basement and where I spend idle time building and enhancing the aircraft I fly.

Our youngest son (35) lives only blocks away in Washington, while the eldest (37) lives in Milwaukee. Hooray for SKIPE on the laptop that regularly keeps us in touch up there to supplement auto trips.

We both regret not having attended the previous class reunions and are eagerly waiting for the 50th that everyone else is eager to attend.

I'm glad I had the opportunity to work with Connie in preparing the reunion book that allowed me to contact a few and get a major introduction to all responders through the handling and processing of your questionnaires. I have not met anyone yet, but I feel like I know everyone already.
